

COVID-19 Vestland Offshore Operational update 13.03.2020

Due to the ongoing Coronavirus outbreak, Vestland Management AS is practicing remote office solution from today. (13th of March 2020)
This is in accordance with recommendations and requirements from the Norwegian Government.

We are concerned about the situation and take our social responsibility very serious and will take whatever effort feasible in order to prevent any COVID-19 contamination. Our contingency plans are in place for epidemic disease onboard as well as updated safety alerts and circular letter covering coronavirus outbreak both onshore and offshore.

We at Vestland Management will continue to conduct our business as usual and support all our customers operations in the best possible way given the new circumstances. We will also take extra precautions to secure all personnel involved in our operations. In order to get the situation under control it is up to every single one of us to act and follow the advises given in terms of hygiene, distance to other people as well as imposed travel restrictions and precautions. I urge everybody to take this responsibility.

Best Regards

Vestland Management AS
